Success starts with Access...

And the winner is... Jody Holehouse!

From one apprentice to another! That was the situation Jody Holehouse found herself in when she was presented with the E2E Award by Tim Campbell (one of Sir Alan Sugar's apprentices) at the annual Nottinghamshire Training Network's Award Ceremony in January 2008.

Jody started with us on an E2E programme in September 2006. She had all sorts of serious personal problems, her Mum was dangerously ill and she was due to be the main witness in an unpleasant court case. Jody just did not feel she could cope and get her life back on track.

Fortunately we were able to find her a very supportive work placement at White Post Farm where manager, Jo Knight, and Animal Care Team Leader, Jackie Loftus, were able to encourage and support Jody. In fact she became such a valuable member of the team at White Post that she was offered an Apprenticeship there.

Jackie Loftus nominated Jody for the NTN award in recognition of the progress Jody made in very difficult circumstances.

Just shows what can be achieved with determination and support!
